Property Owners On State Land Form Association To Improve Areas; Elect Officers Saturday

A forward step was taken toward the setting up of an organization of cabin owners of the Caledonia, Pine Grove Furnace and Laurel Lake areas under the name of Michaux Forest association at a general meeting of 250 cabin owners, Saturday afternoon in Caledonia Manor, representing 475 leases.

Frank O. Horton, Laurel Lake, was elected president and George E. Meagher, secretary. The next meeting will be held July 9.

Groundwork for the formation of the association was done by a temporary committee including Samuel C. Houston, Caledonia, Bertram Baldwin, Pine Grove Furnace, and Frank Horton, Laurel Lake. Acting as temporary chairman at the meeting was George E. Meagher.

A set of by-laws tentatively adopted and five cabin owners from each recreational area were appointed to expedite activities of the association. Resenting Caledonia will be Samuel Houston, John R. Rice, Clarke Smith, Samuel Booth, and Otto Matzelzefer from Pine Grove Furnace. Paul Binder, J. Lloyd Landis, Dr. J. B. Burgin, Dr. William R. Sizer and Bert Baldwin. Acting as Laurel Lake are Frank Horton, E. L. B. James, S. Bowman, J. M. Prescott, and George E. Meagher.

The objective of the association will be the betterment of social relations, an endeavor to bring about improvements in park area, and the protection of all interests of the members. Immediate attention will be given to proposal for a community auditorium at a site to be chosen later. This project is being handled by the association, and it is indicated, it will possibly have a summer festival group into an area.

Court Orders State
Formation of new association, it was said by Mr. Morrow, is an influence in bringing a state supreme court to declare a new ordinance, which terminated the rest of the lease term in both leased land and the property not after 20 years, constitution.

Mr. Morrow said "This is one of the most brutal areas in the United States but many things are lacking. We hope to work in cooperation with our legislators and to have enacted that will override all of the present laws."

There are ideas to every piece. I don't see the legislators as to what we; they just don't understand," Mr. Morrow declared that group would cooperate more fully with the law makers and it would have representation. He stated that efforts would be made to get more benefits in the future to the detriment of the state and waters.

ELLOSHIP DAY I FRIDAY

Local Woman Home From Mother's Rites

Mrs. May Palmer, Gettysburg, returned home Saturday evening from Columbus, Ohio, where she attended the funeral services for her mother, Mrs. Lucy Pierce Caldwell, who died last Thursday.

Mrs. Caldwell was born December 25, 1859. She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. May Palmer, Mrs. Stella Cameron, Columbus, and Mrs. Garnet Karns, Lancaster, Ohio. Seventeen grandchildren, 30 great-grandchildren and 12 great-great-grandchildren, and one brother, Sherman Pierce, of Pomeroy, Ohio, also survive.

Mrs. Caldwell is well known here, having visited her daughter on several occasions.

MRS. G. A. MILLER NAMED HEAD OF DEANERY UNIT

Mrs. George A. Miller, Carlisle street, was elected president of the Conewago Deanery Council of Catholic Women Sunday afternoon at a quarterly meeting held in the church of the Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary, McSherrytown. She succeeds Miss Marie Carbaugh, New Oxford.

Other officers elected were: vice president, Mrs. Evelyn Chrisher, Bonneauville; secretary, Miss Edna Smith, Conewago; and treasurer, Miss Mae Frommeyer, Chambersburg. Mrs. Z. W. Sanders, Littlestown, was judge of the elections and Charlotte Haggman, McSherrytown, and Mrs. Frank Reed, Conewago, were the tellers.

Guest speaker for the afternoon was Dr. Roy W. Gifford, Gettysburg, who discussed "Socialized Medicine." Mrs. Evelyn Chrisher, Bonneauville, was in charge of the program for the meeting. The Rev. Mr. Patrick F. McGee, pastor of the host church, gave the opening prayer and also the address of welcome. The hymn, "To Our Lady of Good Counsel," was sung by the junior choir of Annunciation church, directed by Mrs. Bernard M. Henry, church organist. A summary of parish activities was read by Mrs. Violet Rice.

Plan Retreat
Miss Kathryn McCarthy, Mt. Carmel, president of the Harrisburg diocesan council, announced the annual diocesan convention to be held July 13 at Steelton. Rev. Fr. Robert Hartnett, New Oxford, also spoke. A silver rosary was presented to Miss Carbaugh as a gift from the deanery for her services as president. A plaque of "The Holy Father" was presented to Mrs. Corrine Weaver, and a statue of "The Blessed Mother" to Mrs. Raphael Smith, both of New Oxford.

The next meeting of the deanery will be held in New Oxford in September. It was announced that a week-end retreat for members of the Conewago and York Deaneries will be held in St. Joseph's church, Columbia, July 21 to 23. A bus will be provided for transportation. Interested persons are requested to notify their parish president. The deanery also planned to take a bus to the convention to be held at Steelton.

Plans were discussed for the annual pilgrimage to the tomb of Mother Seton at Emmitsburg sometime in August. The annual day of recollection, which is held in the fall, was also discussed.

April Temperature Averaged 46 Degrees
The average temperature for April, as reported by the South Mountain Park laboratory at Arendtsville, was 46.03 degrees.

Rainfall for the month totaled 2.33 inches. The maximum temperature was reached on April 19 when the mercury soared to 79. The lowest temperature was 17 degrees on April 14.

Done this 1st day of May, 1950.

FIVE INJURED IN ACCIDENTS OVER WEEK-END

Five persons were injured in automobile accidents investigated by state police of the Gettysburg substation over the week-end, and property damage totaled $3,250, police said.

A swaying house trailer caused an accident on the Emmitsburg road nine miles south of Gettysburg at 6:15 p. m. Sunday night in which Margaret E. Lark, 61, of Toronto, Can., suffered a bruised side. She was taken in the ambulance to the Warner hospital.

Four persons were injured when cars driven by Levi J. Spangler, 42, of Gettysburg R. 4, and Ethel Warren, 26, of Aspers R. 1, collided on the Hunterstown-Mummasburg road five miles north of Gettysburg Saturday morning.

Police said an automobile operated by Herbert Pragnell, 69, of Toronto, was traveling north on the Emmitsburg road, hauling the house trailer, when a truck, driven by Andrew Semian, 32, of Taylor, Pa., attempted to pass the trailer and car. As the truck passed the trailer, the latter swayed against the truck, broke away from the automobile, continued down the highway and went off the road on the left side, over a small embankment and ended up against a tree.

Pragnell lost control of the car, which overturned on the berm on the right side of the road, police said. The Toronto woman was the only one injured. Damage to the car and trailer was estimated at $2,000. There was no damage to the truck.

Injured in the Spangler-Warren accident were Mr. Spangler, laceration of the chin and contusion of the forehead, treated by Dr. P. J. McGlynn of Biglerville; Robert C. Spangler, 4½, lacerations and contusion of the neck; Miss Warren, fractured nose, sprained right ankle, contusions and lacerations, and Laverne C. Fuhrman, 24, of Hanover, contusions of both knees and laceration of left knee.

Miss Warren and Fuhrman, a passenger in the Warren car, were brought by a passing motorist to the Warner hospital. Damage to the Warren car was estimated at $1,000 and to the Spangler automobile at $250.

Police said Spangler, who was driving west, will be charged before Justice of the Peace Robert F. Bell, Gettysburg R. 4, with failing to yield one half of the highway. The Warren car was traveling east.

A. J. WENSCHHOFF DIES ON SUNDAY

Andrew Jackson Wenschhoff, 75, Fairfield R. 2, died Sunday morning at the Warner hospital at 7:14 o'clock following an illness of five years.

He was a life-long resident of the Fairfield area, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wenschhoff. He was twice married, being preceded in death by the former Anna Thomas and Marguerite Stultz. Mr. Wenschhoff, who was a farmer, was a member of Elias Lutheran church, Emmitsburg.

Surviving are three children, Mrs. David Riley, Greenmount; George and Clyde Wenschhoff, both of Fairfield R. 2; 12 grandchildren; two great-grandchildren; three brothers, Harry, Charles and Robert, all of Gettysburg R. 3; two sisters, Miss Mary Wenschhoff, Gettysburg R. 3, and Mrs. William Pannabaker, Hanover.

Funeral services Tuesday at 2 p. m. from the Allison funeral home, Emmitsburg, conducted by the Rev. Philip Bower. Interment in Mountview cemetery, Emmitsburg. Friends may call at the funeral home this evening after 7 o'clock.

Proclamation

WHEREAS the Gettysburg Board of Health has asked you, the people of Gettysburg, to CLEAN UP—PAINT UP—FIX UP and SPRUCE UP your properties during the month of May, and

WHEREAS a clean town is a healthy town, and whereas a town in which the citizens take pride in their properties is a better town in which to live,

THEREFORE, I, William G. Weaver, Burgess of the Borough of Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, do proclaim the month of May, 1950, as CLEAN UP—PAINT UP—FIX UP—SPRUCE UP month and call on the citizens of this town to cooperate with our Board of Health in their plans for the month. Have your ashes and trash ready when the trucks reach your section of town. Clean up your yards, paint where needed and make the repairs you have been putting off and thus your property will present that spruced up appearance.

I further call upon you to help keep our town clean throughout the year. Use the waste receptacles placed in the center of town by the Board of Health and the Acorn Club. Storekeepers sweep your pavements at night when you close and not in the morning after the street cleaner has passed. Many little daily acts of thoughtfulness on our parts will give Gettysburg the reputation of being a clean town.

Done this 1st day of May, 1950.

Marriage Licenses Decrease In 1950

Eleven marriage licenses were issued by the county clerk of courts during April, bringing the total for the first four months of the year to 41. During the comparable period a year ago 58 marriage permits were granted.

While 11 licenses were issued in April, 26 were granted in April a year ago. In March eight were issued, February, nine and January, 13. For the three months in 1949, seven were issued in March, 12 in February and 13 in January.

BOROUGH OPENS 1-WAY TRAFFIC "EXPERIMENT"

Gettysburg motorists today were having their first local experience with one-way traffic.

Passed by borough council at its April meeting, the ordinance decreeing one-way traffic and one-side parking on a number of borough streets went into effect today.

The ordinance was designed as an experiment in traffic regulation aimed at relieving traffic snarls, and most motorists were said to be "co-operating well" with the new regulations.

Signs marking the one-way streets and the new no-parking areas were placed this morning, and policemen were giving motorists an opportunity to get accustomed to the new way of getting around town.

Few Violators
Quite a number of motorists went the "wrong way" on the new one-way streets this morning before signs were placed, but after the signs were up, only a few were observed driving into the streets the wrong way, and then, rather embarrassed, backing out when they discovered their error.

Burgess William G. Weaver said that the police department has been instructed to aid motorists for the first week to get acquainted with the new regulations. After the first week, however, those not willing to co-operate will be fined. Red tickets, with the word "warning" on them will be distributed to violators this week.

Noting that "every new law hurts someone," Burgess Weaver added that "this ordinance is not an exception and after a 60 day trial it will need amendments, but as one citizen said, 'You can never improve our traffic situation without trying something.'"

Seek Future Relief
He added that the borough council, the burgess and police will listen to constructive criticism and expect that out of the trial period regulations will be developed that will provide relief to the motoring public with a minimum of hardship to business places along the streets affected.

The one-way streets are East High street, east-bound only; Stratton street, north-bound from High street to Lincoln avenue; Washington street, south-bound from Lincoln avenue to Steinwehr avenue; Breckenridge street westbound and South street eastbound.

Parking is restricted to one side on all or parts of East High, Breckenridge, South, Stratton, Liberty, East and West Middle, North and South Washington streets, and Steinwehr avenue.

ANNOUNCE CAST FOR LOCAL PLAY

Members of the cast of the play "This Other Eden," to be given May 11 and 12 in the high school auditorium for the benefit of the welfare department of the Woman's club, were announced today. The play, by Mrs. Mara Evans Stearns, will be directed by Mrs. Madeleine Killalea.

The characters in the play, and those who will take the parts are: Ruth Grant, Mrs. Willis R. Doyle; Cynthia Grant, her daughter, Kay Coleman; Bob Grant, her husband, James Sneeringer; Phil Irving, a friend, Wayne Weagley; Mrs. Clark, Ruth's mother, Mrs. Ida Roth; Tommy Grant, Ruth's son, Timmy Stearns; Jingle, Leigh Kooker; two visitors, Mrs. Phil Noble and Mrs. Herman Frisch; Lillian Wells, Mrs. D. L. Norman; Mr. Dunne, William Harbaugh; Dorothy Crewe, Mrs. Joseph Heiney; Morbid, Jack Thrush; Drew, Jack Augustine; scouts, Diane Dereck, Jake Donley, Peggy Norman, Elise Scharf and Sandy Wolf, Tania, Mrs. Raymond Sheely.

All members of the club have tickets. General admission is 60 cents and reserved seats $1.00.

FACES CODE CHARGE

Magnus Laws, Jr., Gettysburg, has been charged before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder with failing to stop at the red blinker at the intersection of Baltimore street and Steinwehr avenue. A notice was sent to Laws. The charge was placed by the borough police.

SCHOOLMATES PAY TRIBUTE TO LOCAL SCOUT

Students of St. Francis Xavier school today and Tuesday will pay final respects to their schoolmate, Richard Joseph Steinberger, a student in the fifth grade of the school, who died Friday morning.

This afternoon at 3:15 o'clock the pupils of the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades assembled in the school court and marched in procession to the Bender funeral home to recite the rosary for their classmate. The youngsters were led to the funeral home by members of the school safety patrol and the Boy Scouts, dressed in uniform.

All members of Boy Scout Troop 78, both the scouts and senior scouts, will meet this evening at 7 o'clock in the parochial school basement to march to the funeral home, together with the scout committee, to recite the rosary for their fellow scout.

Mass On Tuesday
On Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock all of the St. Francis Xavier school children will attend the funeral mass for their fellow student. Celebrant of the mass will be the Rev. Fr. Anthony F. Kane, administrator of St. Francis Xavier parish.

Servers at the mass will be Edward and Robert Steinberger, brothers of the deceased. Thomas and Kenneth Cole and James Knox will be assistant servers. Atp in the sanctuary will be Charles Littleton and Wilbur Knox, classmates and close friends of the deceased.

Members of Boy Scout Troop 78 will act as pallbearers. Active pallbearers will be John Codori, Richard Roy, Charles Hemler, Bernard Miller, James Coleman and Martin Redding. Honorary pallbearers will include all other members of the scout troop.

Students in the following grades at the school will have masses said for the response of the deceased's soul: Third grade, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth.

ARMED FORCES DINNER TICKETS DISTRIBUTED

Tickets were distributed today for the dinner to be held at the Hotel Gettysburg Friday evening, May 19, marking Gettysburg's observance of Armed Forces Day, May 20.

The following organizations are cooperating: Gettysburg college ROTC; Lions, Rotary and Exchange clubs; Elks, Moose and Eagles lodges; American Legion, VFW, Sons of Union Veterans, Business and Professional Women's club; Soroptimist club; 313th Infantry Reserve; 2108th Replacement Depot; ROA, and Beta Sigma Phi.

The dinner will be held at 6:30 p. m. and tickets are priced at $2. Besides the organizations, the dinner is open to the public.

Col. Lee To Speak
The speaker will be Lt. Col. John C. H. Lee of York, executive secretary of the Brotherhood of the Episcopal church, formerly Gen. Eisenhower's chief of supply and a veteran of the Italian campaign.

Burgess William G. Weaver is general chairman of the Armed Forces Day committee, which takes the place this year of Army Day and Navy Day observances, and stresses the unification of the various branches of the armed forces. Lt. Col. Thomas Petty, Gettysburg college ROTC, is project officer for the observance.

The regular meeting of the Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary will be held Wednesday evening in the post home at 8 o'clock.

Shreckengost-Knouse Nuptials Are Solemnized On Saturday

Miss Margaret Kathryn Knouse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Knouse, Arendtsville, became the bride of Earl Eugene Shreckengost, Flora Dale, at 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon in Trinity Lutheran church, Arendtsville. The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. George H. Berkeimer, Harrisburg, assisted by the Rev. Robert C. Chiebel, pastor of the church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white nylon embroidered net over satin with a Peter Pan collar and a tight bodice and full skirt. She wore a halo effect headdress of seed pearls to which was attached a finger-tip length illusion veil. She carried a Bible topped with a white orchid from which were white satin streamers knotted with Stephanotis.

There were no attendants. Mrs. D. Fred Slegal, McKnightstown, presented an organ recital prior to the ceremony and was accompanist for

CHURCH SCHOOL IS DEDICATED HERE ON SUNDAY

Formal dedication services for the new church school constructed by Trinity Evangelical Reformed church were held Sunday morning at 10 o'clock.

The service began in the church, followed by a procession of members of the junior and senior choirs, the building committee, consistory, Church School Superintendent Clyde R. Spangler, Assistant Superintendent Robert P. Snyder, Architect George I. Flickinger, contractor, Ivan Duttwey, the pastor, Rev. Dr. Howard Schley Fox, and the Rev. Dr. Charles Spotts, who preached the sermon.

Members of the congregation took part in the procession which moved to the High street side of the church to the new door. There the ceremony of opening the door took place, after which the procession moved into the auditorium of the new building, where formal dedication was held.

Building Cost $41,000
The Rev. Dr. Howard Fox announced that the cost of the entire project amounted to $41,000, a large part of which already has been paid through a building fund developed over a period of years.

Formal dedication of the new chapel on the first floor of the church was held at 7:30 o'clock Sunday evening. The chapel was a gift of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Yoder. Preacher for the service was the Rev. Clyde R. Brown, of the Presbyterian church, president of the Gettysburg ministerium.

A 36 by 100 foot building, the new educational structure has a stage at one end and a kitchen at the other. It seats 350 and will be used for the adult department of the church school and for social and recreational activities. The first floor of the church was remodeled to provide five classrooms for the kindergarten, junior department and primary department, and to provide a chapel. A church parlor is being provided by the Willing Workers class.

A number of gifts and memorials were dedicated as follows:
Cornerstone — presented by H. Donald, Jr., and James D. Ridinger.
Lamp post — presented by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Settle in memory of Mr. and Mrs. William Settle.

SENTENCES AND FINES ORDERED BY COURT HERE

Ervin Junior Treiber, Hanover, charged with larceny, was fined $50 by the Adams county court Saturday and sent to jail for from 11 to 23 months, dating from March 23.

Treiber was one of a number of defendants to receive jail sentences during the regular sentence court session Saturday.

Clyde A. Miller, Gettysburg R. 4, charged with driving after his license was suspended, was sentenced to serve four months in the county jail and pay the costs.

Clarence Cookson Sheely, 124 East King street, Littlestown, charged with assault and battery, was given a three month jail term and was told that a parole would be considered later.

Roger H. King, Hanover R. 3, charged with violation of the public assistance laws, was given a suspended sentence, placed on probation for one year, ordered to make restoration of $140.80 and pay the costs.

Placed On Probation
Clyde A. Sloat, Orrtanna R. 1, was given a suspended sentence on a larceny charge, placed on probation for one year, ordered to pay $100 for use of the county and the costs and directed to make restitution of $14.84.

Richard Dale Currens, Orrtanna R. 1, who was also charged with larceny in the same case as that in which Sloat was sentenced, was sent to jail for three months, ordered to pay the costs and make restitution of $14.84. Currens was placed on parole for one year immediately as he had already served 30 days in jail while awaiting sentence.

G. Oscar Baughman, Littlestown, who had pleaded guilty to larceny charges in connection with the taking of a gasoline engine and with robbing Hill Top tavern, was sentenced to from 11 to 23 months on each charge, with the terms to run concurrently.

Returned to Jail
Charges of drunken driving and failure to yield one-half the highway brought against M. S. Eshback, York, were continued until the August term of court.

Paul Patterson, Iron Springs, was returned to jail as a parole violator when he appeared on a charge of operating his car after his license had been suspended. Last October he was paroled after serving nine months of an 18 month sentence on a burglary charge. He was returned to jail Saturday to serve out the remaining nine months.

Willie Lee Reynolds, Gettysburg R. 2, charged with burglary, was given a suspended sentence, placed on parole for one year, ordered to pay $50 for use of the county, make restitution and pay the costs. A similar sentence was given Algine Price, Gettysburg R. 2, who was implicated in the same burglary, with the exception that Price was fined $150 for use of the county.

3RD DISTRICT SUNDAY SCHOOL MEETING HELD

"Let the School Be the School" was the theme of the address by Ira C. Sassaman, Harrisburg, associate executive secretary and director of adult work of the State Sabbath School association, at the annual spring convention of the Third District Sunday school association of Adams county, held Sunday evening in St. Luke church, White Hall. The speaker discussed the three different names that are used for the Sunday school in Pennsylvania, and explained how each of the three terms clearly described the functions of the Sunday school.

"In western Pennsylvania where there are many Scotch Presbyterians and United Presbyterians," he said, "the Sunday school is referred to as as the Sabbath school. Teaching rightly belongs to the Sabbath as Jesus taught on the Sabbath day. The Sabbath school offers a special kind of teaching about God, Christ and the church."

"The second name given to the Sunday school is the church school. This means that the Sunday school is a part of and not a part from the church. The Sunday school is not something in itself without any relation to the church. The church allows the Sunday school to take up so much time because it expects the school to serve the causes of the church. Thus the primary job of the Sunday school is to produce good church men and good church women."

"Bible school," he said, "is the (Please Turn to Page 5)

U.S. STEEL TO SPEND MILLIONS ON NEW PLANTS

Hoboken, N. J., May 1 (AP)—Stockholders of United States Steel Corp. were told today the company faces heavy capital expenditures in the next few years to develop new iron ore and steel facilities.

Irving S. Olds, chairman, speaking at the stockholders' 49th annual meeting here, described the investment total for these purposes as involving "many millions of dollars."

He said the funds would be used for:

Facilities to mine and transport the high-quality iron ore on properties acquired in Venezuela;

Plants for recovery of Taconite concentrates from lower grade domestic ores in Minnesota, and

Mill on Delaware

Completion of an eastern seaboard steel mill on the Delaware river below Trenton, N. J.

Olds said that "while it is hoped that this (eastern) plant will eventually be an integrated steel mill, using Venezuelan iron ore in its furnaces, it is possible that the mill will be constructed in different stages."

Already in the postwar period U. S. Steel has spent $913,000,000 for additions to and replacement of its facilities. As of March 31, it had authorized additional construction amounting to $163,000,000 yet to be completed.

The total for this program exceeds the aggregate of U. S. Steel Corp. profits over the past ten years.

Fourteen Arrests Are Made In April

Gettysburg borough police made 14 arrests during April, the monthly report prepared by Chief of Police Robert C. Harpster revealed today.

Violations were few in the borough during the month, the report disclosed, and the number of accidents, three, was the lowest for any one month since 1945.

Of the 14 arrests, nine were for motor violations, three for disorderly conduct, one for violation of the uniform firearms act and one for drunken driving.

Seven cars and one truck were involved in the three accidents, all of which were minor. Damage in the three crashes totaled $200.

One bicycle was stolen and recovered, three juvenile cases were handled, 89 minor complaints were investigated and $134 was secured from parking violators.

400 HEAR CONCERT

Approximately 400 persons attended the sacred concert given under the direction of Homer Rodeheaver, noted evangelist and song leader, Sunday evening in St. James Lutheran church. The piano accompanist was B. D. Ackley, gospel writer. The concert was presented under the sponsorship of the Adams County Christian Endeavor.

Homes Damaged In Highway Accident

Four persons escaped injury Sunday night when a car damaged two Thomasville homes after it was struck by another car on the Lincoln highway west, about 30 feet west of the railroad tracks.

Drivers of the vehicles involved in the mishap which caused an estimated $500 property damage were identified by state police as Henry Fissel, 20, of Orrtanna, and J. Earl Mickley, 50, Thomasville. Eight-year-old Keith Mickley was a passenger in his father's car, while Gaila Peppe, 18, of Orrtanna, was riding with Fissel.

State police said Mickley was attempting a right turn into the driveway of Jennie D. Reichert, Thomasville, when his vehicle was struck by the Fissel car.

The Mickley auto was pushed into the porch of the Reichert residence where it knocked down four porch posts and damaged the house. The car came to rest when it hit the neighboring house of M. D. Myers, Thomasville, and damaged a brick chimney.

Most damage was to the property. Damage to the car was slight, state police said.

Says United Nations Answer To Problem

Washington, May 1 (AP)—A U. S. Chamber of Commerce showing deep concern over American defenses was told by its president today that "A united nation at home is the best answer to the present world situation."

President Herman W. Steinkraus said in a statement prepared for the opening of the organization's 38th annual meeting that: "All business organizations throughout the country have the responsibility of clearing the air so our people will understand what needs to be done."

Steinkraus said the American people are concerned over many international matters. He listed three (1) The United Nations "has been moving haltingly and its future is insecure"; (2) Russia "has taken control" of China; (3) "The concern about Communists in our government is a real one."

SANDERS CALLS WORK OF CRANK

Manchester, N. H., May 1 (AP)—Annoying telephone calls were dismissed as the work of a "nut" or a "crank" today by principal figures in the case of Dr. Hermann N. Sanders.

Dr. Benjamin P. Burpee, a member of the State Board of Registration in Medicine, and prosecution figures in the case of the young physician, reported over the week-end they have received heckling calls and critical letters.

Dr. Burpee said that only last Thursday a male caller told his wife: "I can see a boy putting something under your porch, and it looks to me like a bomb."

Attorney General William L. Phinney, County Solicitor William H. Craig and Medical Referee Dr. Robert E. Biron also said they received calls and letters from "cranks."

Dr. Sander said at his Candia home the calls and letters are "very unfortunate and horrible" and he hopes they stop "immediately."

The 41-year-old physician was acquitted of a murder charge in the death of a cancer patient.

Vending Machine Douses Customer

Minneapolis, May 1 (AP)—Here's a vending machine that gets mad and fights back.

Carl Hixon, Northwest Airlines employe, inserted a nickel in an automatic coffee vendor at the Minneapolis airport. He pushed a button labeled "cream and sugar."

Nothing happened. Hixon hammered on the machine with his fist.

The machine clanked. Red lights flashed. A charge of hot coffee squirted on Hixon's suit.

Then a sign over the nickel slot flashed: "Sold out."

State's Relief Payments Lower

Harrisburg, May 1 (AP)—Pennsylvania's average monthly relief grants are lower than those of ten other states of comparable size, says the State Public Assistance department.

Upper Communities

Phone Biglerville 21-R-14

The news columns of The Gettysburg Times are open to all sources. Those residing in the Upper Communities are requested to telephone their news to Roland Kime, Biglerville Exchange 21-R-14 or phone direct to The Times, Gettysburg 640.

Mrs. Charles E. Heyser, of Gettysburg R. 5, won the $40 jackpot which has been at stake as a feature of the parties held on Saturday evenings in the Bendersville Community hall.

A meeting of the Martha Household of the Biglerville Catholic Study group will be held Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Richard Wayburn, Biglerville star route.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph G. Taylor and daughter, Nancy, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl B. Taylor and son, Edwin, Biglerville, spent Sunday in Washington, D. C., where they visited the zoo, and with relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Albert, Silver Spring, Md.

The dancing class of Miss Anna Hoyer will meet Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the social rooms of the Arendtsville National bank.

A committee of the Ira E. Lady American Legion post auxiliary has announced plans to have the dance pupils of Miss Anna Hoyer present their annual dance recital on Friday evening, June 2, in the Biglerville grade school building and on Saturday evening, June 3, in the Arendtsville school auditorium. Committee members include Mrs. Howard Guise, Mrs. Ralph Stoner, Mrs. Paul Osborn and Mrs. Sabo.

The Pathfinder Sunday school class of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Biglerville, will hold its regular meeting Tuesday evening with Mrs. Hays Haldeman.

PHONE STRIKE IS POSTPONED

(By The Associated Press) The immediately threatened nationwide tieup of telephone service was averted early today by agreement of the striking maintenance and installation men to resume negotiations.

The action ended at least temporarily the week-long strike of 10,000 members of Division 6 of the CIO Communications Workers of America only four hours before they were scheduled to set up picket lines at telephone exchanges in 43 states.

It was the picket line rather than the strike itself that was expected to hobble service. It was believed that most of the 230,000 other union telephone workers would refuse to cross picket lines to their jobs.

But another segment of communications was hit by a nationwide strike of teletype operators and other traffic workers against the United Press Associations, a news service. They walked off their jobs about the time the telephone workers agreed to go back to work.

There were indications that the end of the 97-day-old strike of 29,000 United Auto Workers against Chrysler corporation, was in the making at Detroit. And in New York, 12,000 service employes called off their four-day strike at 1,000 buildings. More than 200,000 apartment house dwellers had been deprived of elevator service, telephone switchboard, heat, hot water, garbage disposal and other services by the strike.

Six Fliers Killed In Crash Of Bomber

Lebanon, Ill., May 1 (AP)—Six Air Force crewmen were killed yesterday in a crash of their B-25 bomber in a vacant lot of a residential area.

The dead were listed by the Air Force as Col. Richmond A. Livingstone, the pilot, Pawtucket, R. I.; Maj. Donald H. Bruner, Coral Gables, Fla.; 2nd Lt. Richard L. Watson, Little Rock, Ark.; S. Sgt. James A. Strum, Nashville, N. C.; T. Sgt. William I. Ball, Ozan, Ark., and Staff Sgt. Ralph Wallace, Greenville, Tex.

The plane exploded as it crashed, set fire to two houses and showered the area with flaming gasoline and debris. The home of Frank H. Wolf was destroyed by the fire, and the home of Walter Bridges was damaged.

Army officers said the plane was from Perrin air base, Tex., and had just taken off from Scott air base, Belleville, Ill., on a cross-country flight.

SELL PROPERTY

Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Kelly, Cumberland township, have sold a property on Oak Ridge to Dr. and Mrs. David C. Stoner, York street. Possession will be given in June. The sale was made through John C. Bream.

FILES ESTATE BOND

An administration bond in the estate of Kate V. Lightner, late of Gettysburg, has been filed with the county register and recorder. Wilbur Kappes, Gettysburg, a nephew of the deceased, is administrator of the $3,500 estate.

Another Property Bought For Lawyer

Sale of another property in the Stone Jug area to Attorney Franklin R. Bigham, who has been purchasing farms in an area from Cashtown to Hampton for an unnamed buyer and for an unnamed purpose, was revealed with the placing of a deed on record at the office of the county register and recorder. The deed, from C. A. Heiges, Gettysburg, to Attorney Bigham, covers a 212-acre farm in Butler township along the Stone Jug road. The purchase price is listed as $8,750.

SENTENCES AND

placed on parole for two years after having served the minimum of a sentence on a forgery charge. He was also directed to make restitution for the checks and post surety to report to court in November.

Elmer Currens, Gettysburg R. 4, was given a suspended sentence, placed on probation, and ordered to pay $150 for use of the county and the costs. He was charged with driving his car after his operator's license was suspended.

Eugene Shaffer, York Springs R. D., was sent to jail for six months on a charge of operating after a suspension after his probation on the charge was revoked by the court.

Historians Will Tour County Sites

The first of two summer tours by the Adams County Historical society will be held Tuesday evening when members will visit Buchanan Valley and Arendtsville.

President J. M. Sheads said that the caravan of cars will leave from Meade school, at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening. Those seeking transportation should be at the school at that hour.

From there the group will visit St. Ignatius church and the Mary Jemison statue in Buchanan Valley. At Arendtsville Harry S. Rafenberger will lead the group on a walking tour of Arendtsville and will point out historical features and tell the history of such places as Yellow hill and the former coke making industry near Arendtsville.

The group originally had been scheduled to tour Christ Reformed church near Littlestown and Cone-wago chapel during the May meeting, but that program was postponed until June.

A son was born this morning at the hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hollabaugh, Aspers.

LEHIGH HALTS BULLETS' FIVE GAME STREAK

Gettysburg college's baseball team dropped its first game after five straight victories when Lehigh gained a 4-2 victory Saturday afternoon at Bethlehem.

Gratton held the Bullets to five singles while his teammates secured 11 safeties, including a home run by Walter, off of Ken Houtz.

Lehigh scored in the second inning on a double by Collins and single by Walter. The Bullets tied it up in the fourth on a single by Eyster, sacrifice by Bltner, and a single by Martz. The Plankmen went ahead in the fifth on a single by Royals, his steal of second base catchers over-throw. Hare then singled him home.

In the last of the fifth Lehigh knotted the count via a double by Groseclose and single by Gabriel. Walter's homerun sent the Engineers ahead in the sixth. Singles by Kennedy and VenVertloh and a wild pitch by Houtz produced the final Engineer run in the eighth.

The Bullets face one of their busiest weeks of the season. On Wednesday Penn State will be met at State College. On Thursday Pitt comes here for a game and on Saturday Franklin and Marshall will be met here.

Sunday Baseball
Games Rained Out

All games scheduled to be played Sunday in the South Penn. Penn. Adams and Pen-Mar baseball leagues were postponed due to rain.

The Granite-Barlow tilt in the South Penn circuit will be played Wednesday evening at Barlow.

BULLETS FINISH SECOND
The Gettysburg college mile relay team finished second in the fifth college class event at the Penn Relays on Saturday. Haverford, winner by five yards, turned in a mark of 3:33.7. Tom Ketterman, anchor man for the Bullets, made a valiant but futile effort to over-take Rudisill in the stretch. Trailing the Bullets were Adelphi, Dickinson and Albright.

The Conewago VFW, New Oxford and Hanover baseball teams of the Adams County league all came through with their second straight victories Saturday afternoon.

Conewago pounded out a 9-3 victory over Fairfield at Arendtsville while Hanover won 4-1 at Littlestown.

In a see-saw game which resulted in a big argument in the eighth inning when K. Deardorff was called out on a close play at the plate, New Oxford gained a 7-6 win at Orrtanna. The argument held up the game 10 minutes and almost resulted in the banishment of several Orrtanna players. After Orrtanna tied the count at 6-6 in the eighth on a walk to Bieseker, a single by Moritz and a fielder's choice, New Oxford clinched the game in the ninth on a triple by Noel and single by Jones.

KINER'S MOTHER HOPES HE WILL REACH HR GOAL

Alhambra, Calif., May 1 (AP)—Ralph Kiner's best girl—his mother—will be satisfied if the Pittsburgh Pirate slugger establishes a new National league home run mark this year.

Mrs. Beatrice Kiner, who says her son, Ralph, finally has convinced her that he was right in choosing a baseball career, won't go beyond that.

She just refuses to discuss Ralph's chances of some day setting a major league record by beating Babe Ruth's all-time high of 60 round trippers in a season.

But the National league record of 56 in one season, set by Hack Wilson while with the Chicago Cubs in 1930, is something else again.

"I have my hopes set for Ralph to tie or better Mr. Wilson's record this year," Mrs. Kiner declared. "It would indeed be a wonderful feat if he does this."

Last year Kiner smashed 34 homers. He's got three this season and is seven days ahead of his 1949 pace, having hit his third homer on May 6 in 1949.

Since breaking into the big leagues in 1946 Kiner has gotten into the record books with monotonous regularity. He started out with 23 homers in 1946, 51 in 1947, 40 in 1948 and 34 in 1949.

Mrs. Kiner says she plans to go to Pittsburgh in July to watch Ralph play a few games and give him a little home cooking.

Laughingly, she told how she often tried to get Ralph interested in studying to be a doctor or lawyer.

"He was more interested in grabbing a bat, glove and baseball and heading for one of the ball fields around Alhambra," Mrs. Kiner said.

Roundup Sports

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, May 1 (AP)—You'd think a ball club would be happy to have one Robin Roberts, but the Phillies figure they'll have another before long. . . No 2 is Buzz Bowers, who was shipped to Toronto for further seasoning this spring. . . Like Roberts, Bowers played for John Kob's Michigan State team and he played summer ball under Michigan's Ray Fisher at Montpelier, Vt., in the Northern league. Unlike Robin, Buzz turned pro when he became ineligible under Big Ten regulations, because of his summer activity. He didn't get a $25,000 bonus. . . The first time he faced professional opposition in Florida, Bowers shut out the Red Sox for three innings. . . And the Phils tell with amazement how Manager Eddie Sawyer told him to do a little running in the outfield, then had to send a message to slow down when he was observed sprinting like mad across the field. . . In his first International league game for Toronto, Bowers again turned in a shutout. . . That's a better-than-fair start.

NOT GUILTY
In American boxing they have a managers guild, a trainers guild and even a matchmakers guild. . . But our English cousins have gone one step further by organizing the British fight fans union. . . Next thing likely will be to form a video viewers league—and insist on giveaway programs or puppet boxers.

MONDAY MATINEE
Ivy Williamson, Wisconsin football coach, is threatening to turn away from the two-plateau system in the belief that he can get better results with two-way players. . . And also because he's a bit short of talent. . . And Southern California's Jeff Cravath has been trying some of Pop Warner's old double wing plays in spring drills. . . Hink Oana, who had his share of fun as a baseball player, got so annoyed when a couple of his Austin (Big State league) players violated training rules that he took a belt at one of them and suspended both. . . "It just convinces me," said Hank, "that you can't be a good fellow and be a manager."

Middleground Will Go On Derby Trial
Louisville, Ky., May 1 (AP)—King Ranch has decided on a one-two punch for Saturday's Kentucky Derby.

That was determined last night when Trainer Max Hirsch arrived from New York and said Middleground would go in the derby trial tomorrow and On The Mark would wait for the derby.

Previously it was believed On The Mark would have to earn his way by a good showing in the trial.

Middleground's appearance in the trial will give fans a chance to compare the west's hopefuls with the east's Ben Jones, Calumet farm trainer, is almost sure to send Theory out to meet Middleground in the trial.

There should be at least four other derby eligibles in the trial—including the Brookmeade entry of Greek Ship and Sunflow, A. E. Reuben's Lot O' Luck and Wilburton farm's Trumpet King.

Softball League Meeting Wednesday

An important meeting of the Gettysburg Softball league officials will be held Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Moose home on York street.

President Johnny Knox has asked all teams to have representatives present. Rosters will be approved, forfeits posted and other plans made for the season which is carded to start in two weeks.

CRIPPLED YOUTH IS STATE CHAMP

State College, Pa., May 1 (AP)—A 20-year old lad, who was born with his right foot turned completely backwards, is bidding for top collegiate highjump honors.

He's Victor Fritts, Penn State ace, who currently holds the ICA4-A indoor championship—the first Nittany Lion to win that event. In addition, he holds the Penn State indoor record of six-foot five-inches.

Fritts underwent nine operations in 13 years to correct his defect but the foot still is not completely normal. His right foot and ankle are much weaker than his left and he wears shoes two sizes apart.

After the ninth operation, Fritts tried out for the high school basketball team in his native Hatboro, Pa. He made the varsity in his sophomore year and later captained his team to its best record in 21 years.

To further overcome his physical handicap he tried out for track. He won the state championship of the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic association in 1947 by clearing the bar at five feet, 10 and a half inches.

"All during that time my mother was unaware that I was out for track," Fritts said. "But after she found out that I was a state champ she encouraged me to continue in college."

However, Fritts still has another year of intercollegiate jumping ahead. His coach, Charles (Chick) Werner, thinks Fritts has the ability to win a national title.

Nearby Horses Win At Newark

Newark, N. J., May 1 (AP)—An aged campaigner named Liberty Belle won the Capt. Charles J. Barrie, Jr. National Challenge trophy at the windup of the Newark Horse show last night.

Two Pennsylvania horses won $500 awards. They were Nellie Pidgeon, a chestnut mare owned by James Malcom, of Hanover, which took the three-gaited championship stake and The Country Doctor, a bay gelding owned by J. Marlin Burkholder, of Chambersburg. This horse won the Single Roadster championship purse.

Liberty Belle, a chestnut mare, is owned by Nat Krupnick, of Paterson, New Jersey.

Batting—Ted Williams, Red Sox, and Del Rice, Cardinals—Williams, back from a sick siege, collected five hits as the Red Sox swamped the Athletics in both ends of a doubleheader, 19-0 and 6-5.

Rice hit a home run to break up a 13-inning scoreless duel between Chicago's Johnny Schmitz and St. Louis' Harry Brecheen to give the Cards a 1-0 victory.

Pitching—Harry Brecheen, Cards, and Bill Wright, White Sox—Brecheen allowed five hits, fanned eight and walked two in pitching the Cards to a 1-0 triumph over the Cubs in 13 innings. Wright yielded but two hits in pitching Chicago to a 5-0 victory over the Tigers.

Connie Mack Comes Home To Rest Up

Philadelphia, May 1 (AP)—Connie Mack, tired out by a round of events in connection with his 50th year as manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, is home to rest.

Mack arrived in Philadelphia from Boston yesterday and went straight home, where he placed himself in the competent hands of Mrs. Mack.

The wife of the 87-year-old manager prescribed complete rest.

"He's just overly tired," said Mrs. Mack, "and I think he knows it. He'll feel better in a couple of days and will be back with the team."

MACKMEN WEAR DUBIOUS HONOR FOR SHUTOUTS

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
When bigger and better horseshoes are fashioned, it's a pretty safe bet the Philadelphia Athletics will wear 'em.

Until yesterday, 14-0 represented the largest shutout score in the American league in the last 10 years. One such game was played in 1943. Another in 1944. The Athletics were the victims both times.

The luckless Mackmen made those two games seem like pitcher's battles yesterday in the first game of a doubleheader. Final score was Boston 19, Philadelphia 0. The Red Sox also won the nightcap, 6-5.

Boston missed by two runs in equalling the record high of 21-0. Who do you think lost that one? Why, the A's of course. It was back on August 13, 1939, that Red Ruffing of the New York Yankees whitewashed the Athletics 21-0.

Maul Four Batters
A Boston crowd of 34,697 watched the Red Sox maul four Philly hurlers for 17 hits, good for 34 total bases in the opener. Ted Williams, back in action after missing seven of the last eight games because of the gripe, blasted two home runs. Joe Dobson never had it easier as he doled out five singles for his second triumph.

Boston built up a 5-0 lead for Southpaw Chuck Stobbs in the third innings of the second game. The young bonus pitcher weakened gradually, putting the tying run on first with one out in the ninth. Al Papal took over and retired the next three batters. Hank Wyse was the loser.

The Chicago White Sox emerged with a victory and a tie in their doubleheader with the league-leading Detroit Tigers. After Lefty Bille Wight hurled a two-hit, 5-0 triumph in the opener, the White Sox overcame a 7-0 deficit to gain a 7-7 tie before darkness halted the contest at the end of nine innings.

Home Run Win
Del Rice broke up a brilliant 13-inning hurling duel with a home run to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 1-0 victory over the Chicago Cubs. It gave Harry Brecheen a hard-fought triumph over Johnny Schmitz.

Cincinnati swept both ends of a doubleheader from Pittsburgh, 4-2 and 2-1, although held to two hits by Mel Queen in the second game. Queen, the former American leaguer, had a no-hitter going into the seventh. He walked Ted Kluszewski and Ron Northey followed with a home run. Ewell Blackwell, making his first start for the Reds, went the route fielding five hits.

Three runs in the eighth inning enabled the Reds to overcome a 2-1 deficit in the first game. Walker Cooper singled in two runs. Howie Fox gained the decision over Cliff Chambers although he needed ninth inning aid from Herman Wehmeier. The victories ran the Reds' winning streak to four straight. They dropped their first six starts.

The Boston Braves and Philadelphia Phils divided a twin bill. The Braves won the opener, 4-1, and the Phils took the nightcap, 9-3. Rookie Norman Roy held the Philis to five hits in his debut as a starter. A ninth inning home run by Willie Jones spoiled his shut-out bid.

Robin Roberts gained his third straight victory for the Phils with an eight hitter in the nightcap. He fanned 11. Gran Hamner and Mike Gollat led a nine-hit attack against Dick Donovan and Bob Hall with home runs.

Four games were rained out. Brooklyn and New York were washed out in the National. A doubleheader between Cleveland and St. Louis and a single game between New York and Washington were postponed in the American.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

New Jail: On Tuesday, the County Commissioners contracted with Mr. D. D. Stoner, of Waynesboro, for the erection of a new County Prison—Mr. S. being the lowest bidder, and contracting to complete the building, in accordance with the specifications, for $3,810. It will be constructed on the new system of Prison building separate cells (sixteen) for prisoners, on either side of a corridor running back from the Sheriff's dwelling which latter is to be two-story, and so arranged as to give the jailer, ready and convenient oversight over every cell. The walls of the building are to be of the best quality of brick, and the cells, etc., to be fire-proof. The arrangements will render the building an honor to the County. The price at which Mr. Stoner has contracted to build the prison is generally conceded to be a very low one taking into view the amount and character of the work.—Star.

Married: On the 25th ult., Mr. Adam M. Elroy, of this place, to Miss Susan, daughter of Mr. John M'Donnell, of Cumberland township.

On the 25th ult., by the Rev. John Pohl, Mr. George Whitmer, of this county, to Miss Sarah Stitzel, of York county.

On the 25th ult., by the Rev. Mr. Sechler, Mr. Hezekiah Hahn, of Carroll county, Md., to Miss Sarah Spangler, of this county.

On the 9th ult., at Conowago Chapel, by the Rev. Mr. Anderson, Mr. Jesse Feaser, to Miss Mary Kuhn—both of this county.

The Governor has signed the bill creating a new county out of Columbia, &c., to be called "Montour."

Military Encampment: There is to be a military encampment at Chambersburg, commencing on Tuesday, the 28th of this month. Twelve or fifteen companies are expected.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
On Friday night the Town Council awarded the contract for paving West Middle street, between Baltimore and Washington streets, to S. W. Hoffman, for $465, being the lowest bid. The paving is to be done with cobblestones, similar to that on Chambersburg street.

On Monday morning, Emily, daughter of Dr. Robert Horner, while playing in front of the residence of Mrs. Huber, fell, striking her forehead on the corner of the cellar door, and cutting an artery which bled copiously for several hours.

Robert Rupp, son of John Rupp, deceased, of this place, had the second finger of his left hand taken off on Tuesday evening, while cutting straw for feed.

On Saturday a game of baseball between the Centennials of town and the second nine of Prep resulted in favor of the former by a score of 25 to 6.

Dr. J. W. C. O'Neal will go to the National Medical Convention at Louisville, Kentucky, as delegate from the Adams County Medical Society.

Meeting of School Directors: The triennial meeting of the School Directors of Adams county was held in the Court-house on Tuesday (May 4) and was organized by electing Henry J. Kuhn, President; John Cunningham and A. W. Storm, Vice Presidents; Cyrus G. Beales and Joseph Wolf, Secretaries.

Considerable discussion took place over a proposition to increase the salary of County Superintendent, which for some years has been $800. On the 3d ballot $1,000 was fixed as his salary.

Five candidates were put in nomination for County Superintendent, viz: Aaron Sheely (present incumbent); P. D. W. Hankey, J. Curtis Hildebrand, David Currens and J. N. Kelly. Mr. Sheely was re-elected on first ballot, receiving a solid Democratic vote. One hundred and nine votes were cast as follows: Sheely, 65; Hankey, 33; Hildebrand, 5; Cur-

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

INTERESTS

I have noted that those who have the largest number of interests to engage their minds and bodies are not only the happiest, but the most creative and useful. People who devote themselves to but one objective in life usually burn themselves out before attaining additional years that might have been theirs to enjoy.

People with many interests are never dull ones to whom to talk. Also they are alive, and their minds radiate and inspire. People who have learned to furnish their bodies with a varied and balanced diet for, example, always live healthier and longer lives. The mind, being our greatest pilot and overseer, influences the life of these bodies of ours more than we ever realize. As has been said: "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he."

With plenty to do, and a variety of interests to engage our time, worry, with all its destructive power, finds it difficult to make a lodging in the mind. In like manner fear is crowded out. But there is always plenty of room in the mind, no matter how greatly it is taxed, for an abiding faith. Without this faith there is little power given to the activities of the mind, in all its many enterprises.

All of our interests should be happy ones. Then a mere crowding of them won't matter, for we can have a clean approach to each. There is no limitation to the roads of the mind. Interests can enter by any of them. And the amount of knowledge that can enter the mind is stupendous. No one has ever filled it too full!

Youth is full of interests, so that if we would carry youth along with us, as the years are accumulated, we should carry the interests of youth with us and keep adding to them, as the more youthful ones disappear. It has been said that the body changes every seven years. If this is true, we ought to have a new set of interests ready to replace the old, thus to face the best of life that remains "yet to be." In Browning's words, "the last of life, for which the first was made."

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Jack Miner."

MAY DAY

I wonder if in England still they greet the month of May,
As was the custom long ago,
With song and music gay.

Does every cabbie deck his horse
With primrose-tail and mane—
To show that he is glad to see
The merry month again?

In school yards are the Maypoles raised, with pretty ribbons strung,
And do the children dance them round as joyful songs are sung?

Once happy were all English hearts
when May with blossoms came,
And though the world's in trouble
now I hope it's still the same.

Today the lively May arrives with flowers in her hair,
The hawthorn will be red with bloom, but will the song be there?

Will there be twinkles in the eyes
and smiles for May to see,
And will her welcome be as gay
as once it used to be?

Sow Thick And Thin Out To Prolong Harvest In Garden

At First Thinning, Give Each Plant One Inch in the Row.

In the small home vegetable garden, where a maximum yield is desired, there must be no vacant spaces in the row. The only way to insure this is to sow plenty of seed, but not too much, and thin out the excess plants.

No matter how high the germination of the seed, accidents may occur which destroy seedlings, and there must be spares to replace these losses. But unless the stand is gradually thinned, the plants may be so crowded that both quality and yield will suffer.

With some crops, especially those of which the roots and leaves are eaten, this method of planting starts the harvest weeks earlier, and substantially increases the total yield, because half grown plants pulled up in the thinning process provide delicious servings.

Carrots, for example, can be allowed to grow without thinning until the roots are as thick as a little finger. Roots pulled at this stage will be sweeter and more tender than the mature crop.

Beets may be thinned the first time just when the bulbs begin to form. Cooked with their young tops they will be a dish to remember. Half grown vegetables cannot be bought in markets, but they are among the most delightful dividends which the home vegetable garden pays to its owner.

To maintain his supply of spare plants until sure of a perfect stand, the amateur should thin out by degrees.

At first, plants of row crops may be thinned out to stand one inch apart; which will insure, to each room to develop without entangling roots with a neighbor. As they grow, alternate plants should be removed, and so on until the optimum spacing is achieved.

Turnips do not grow well if crowded. If the young plants are pulled up so they stand 4 inches apart in the row, in a remarkably quick time they will be large enough to use.

The first photo-electric cell, forerunner of television, was developed in 1888.

Drainage Important For Rock Gardens

In the May issue of "The Camp Fire Girl," publication for Camp Fire leaders, Mrs. Frances Horak Irving, amateur gardener and naturalist, of West Nyack, N. Y., describes the advantages of rock gardening and tells how such gardens can be built by individual girls of Camp Fire age, seven to 18, or by groups of girls.

The garden site, which can be confined to a small space, should be on a gentle slope where drainage is good. Mrs. Irving points out, and where spreading limbs and roots of large trees do not interfere.

If the spot selected is not naturally rocky, the rocks chosen around which to plant the garden should be all of one kind and preferably native to that part of the country. Rocks are best arranged naturally, buried half way into the soil. Heavy end down; they should be tilted so that rain will run down the upper surfaces toward the soil, thus penetrating to the roots of the plants.

Large pockets, left between the rocks, should be filled with a mixture of two parts loam, two parts sifted leafmold or compost, one part gritty sand and one part fine gravel. The soil is rammed into the pockets and wet thoroughly so no air space remains.

Mrs. Irving recommends that before selecting plants for their gardens Camp Fire Girls consult catalogues and local nursery men. "With careful planning," she writes, "it is possible to have continuous bloom."

TENT CATERPILLAR CONTROL

During the next month or six weeks the unsightly webbed nests of the Eastern tent caterpillar will be seen on many shrubs and trees. The owner and occupant of these nests is a small greedy worm, black, sparsely covered by hair, with a white stripe prominent along the back. Usually there are a few characteristic white and blue markings.

Tent caterpillars particularly prefer wild cherry trees, although they often infest apple trees as their second preference. And while they seldom kill a tree outright, they do destroy so many leaves during heavy infestations that trees are seriously weakened. And too, their nests detract from the beauty of ornamental trees and shrubs.

To prevent confusion of this insect's nest with the home of the bagworm, it is important to remember that the Eastern tent caterpillar builds its web only in the limb crotches of trees. The web is actually silken layers of fine threads between which the worms take refuge from rain. Usually during the height of the feeding period numerous dark caterpillars are seen moving about on the web surface.

The life cycle is simple. There is but one brood each year. Eggs remain over winter in tightly sealed groups cemented to tree and shrub twigs and coated with a brown secretion from the female moth when she deposits them in early summer. These hatch about the time the first tree leaves open. Soon the tiny worms form colonies and move to a selected tree crotch and begin to build their web. They feed heavily on surrounding foliage while they extend their webs. They usually attain full size in about six weeks, after which they individually desert the family home and build yellowish cocoons about an inch long, usually fastening them in bark crevices, on fences, against buildings, and even among dead debris on the ground. From these come small reddish-brown moths in about three weeks, the parents which mate, after which the female deposits her eggs.

Birds and natural enemies, including toads, keep tent caterpillars reduced. Too, it appears that inclement weather and perhaps parasitic foes often reduce the population so that minor damages result. However, farmers, orchardists and ornamental shrub and shade tree owners never know in advance when this pest will become so numerous that serious combat measures may be necessary. And even in normal years the nests are far from decorative in their pollution of otherwise beautiful trees.

If the worms are numerous they may be killed by spraying them and the surrounding foliage with lead arsenate at the rate 4 to 5 lightly rounded teaspoonfuls to a gallon of water in which 6 to 8 rounded teaspoonfuls of hydrated lime has been dissolved. Reduce the time to a thin paste before mixing it in the water; likewise make a paste of the lead arsenate and stir well. If two teaspoonfuls of fish oil is kept vigorously stirred in each gallon of the spray, the poison will remain longer on the foliage. Seldom is it necessary to apply special sprays to control this pest on fruit trees, because the regular spray programs keep it under control.

If the owner will operate carefully, individual nests may be burned from trees and shrubs by wrapping rags around the end of a pole or rod, soaking them in fuel or engine oil and setting them on fire. Of course, foliage should be protected.

Valueless wild cherry trees may well be destroyed along roadsides and particularly near orchards.

History Of Adams County Schools

By W. W. EISENHART

This is the fourth installment of Mr. Eisenhart's history of the schools of Adams county.

PERIOD OF EXPANSION

During the century following the passage of the Free School Act, education in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania made remarkable progress. From time to time, the General Assembly passed other Acts implementing the provisions of the Act of 1824. Those of special significance for Adams county include the following: Acts of 1840, 1849, 1854, 1867, 1873, 1893, 1895, 1901, 1905, 1911, 1913, 1917, 1919, 1921, 1925 and 1929.

Originally, the supervision of schools in Adams county was delegated to lay officials. The Act of 1840 authorized school directors to examine and grant certificates of competency to teachers applying for schools. Between the years 1843 and 1849, laws were passed providing for district supervision of schools. The Act of 1854 established county supervision of schools, but it was not until 1867 that an act was passed giving the office of county superintendent professional status. Adams county's first superintendent of schools was a lawyer by profession. The power of certification was taken out of the hands of school directors by the Act of 1854 and vested in the county superintendent, where it remained until the passage of the Edmonds Act in 1921.

County Superintendent

The following persons served in the office of County Superintendent of Schools since the position was created: David Wills, 1854-56; Reuben Hill, 1856-57; W. L. Campbell, 1857-58; J. Kerr McIlhenney, 1858-59; John C. Ellis, 1859-63; Aaron Shely, 1863-69; 1872-90; J. Howard Wirt, 1869-71; P. D. W. Hankey, 1871-72; J. W. Thoman, 1890-99; H. Milton Roth, 1899-1922; W. Raymond Shank, 1922-34; J. Floyd Slaybaugh, 1934-37; Ira Baker, 1937-42; J. Floyd Slaybaugh, 1942-.

The office of Assistant County Superintendent of Schools was created in 1914. Eight different persons have since filled the office, the present being Charles I. Raffensperger.

The Act of 1854 set the minimum school term at three months. The Act of 1854 made it four months. Subsequent acts raised it successively to five, six and seven; finally eight months was mandatory for elementary schools and nine months for high.

Before the Free School Act was passed salaries of teachers ranged from ten to twelve dollars per month. In early times, it was the custom of many teachers to room and board in the homes of school patrons for one week at a time, gratis; the practice added materially to the income of the teacher. After the third quarter of the nineteenth century, the custom of "boarding around" defined and, in its stead, teachers roomed and boarded in the home of one of their school patrons at their own expense. Minimum salary laws were passed in 1903 and in 1907, but it was not until 1921 when the Edmonds Act was passed that they showed substantial monthly increases in salaries. By provisions of the Act cited, elementary teachers received $1000 salary per year; high school teachers, $1200 per year.

Courses Set Up

The Act of 1854 required that the course of study for common schools should include the teaching of orthography, reading, writing, grammar, geography and arithmetic. United States history was taught in the county schools before as well as after the Civil War. The Act of 1855 called for instruction in physiology and hygiene, including special reference to the effect of alcoholic drinks, stimulants and narcotics upon the human system.

The Act of 1854 required the State Superintendent to prepare and publish a course of study for the schools of the Commonwealth; its provisions were delayed for approximately fifty years. In 1890 J. W. Thoman, a very successful county teacher, was elected superintendent of schools. One of his first official acts was the introduction of an elementary course of study. Notwithstanding its preparation by an Illinois group of teachers for the Illinois schools, its use in Adams county had a marked effect upon the schools. A monthly school magazine interpreting the course to teachers and indicating procedures to be followed in applying it, together with a system of monthly and final examinations for pupils, had a decided effect upon the quality of instruction and greatly stimulated pupils to strive for greater achievement in their studies. Modifications of the system introduced by Superintendent Thoman were made by subsequent superintendents. Changing conceptions of education finally resulted in its abandonment.

The Act of 1854 helped to establish the rights of children as superior to the accident of birth; in addition, those of 1893 and 1895 removed, to a large extent, the inequalities of educational opportunity often due to parental indifference or greed.

Recognize Teacher Need

One of the earliest concerns of people who were interested in good schools was the need for better trained teachers. Normal schools, as the teacher training schools of the period were called, were established to meet this need. There was no law providing for their establishment, however, before 1857. Prior to that date, the academy and other schools of a similar nature met this need. In the main, the training they offered was largely in the academic field; as such it rendered valuable service. After the academy began to decline, the State Normal School took over. At first its course of study was limited. It offered only two years of teacher training, one of which was devoted almost entirely to mastery of the subjects taught in the common school. The second year offered subjects that had been taught in the academies, together with courses in methods of teaching, school management, history of education and psychology. Opportunity was also given to secure practice in actual teaching in what was called the Model School. About the close of the nineteenth century the course of study of the Normal schools was expanded, and the time required for its completion extended to three and later to four years. In 1926 an act was passed changing the Normal schools to State Teacher colleges. Adams county superintendents are now largely dependent upon the latter for trained teachers.

Washington, May 1 (AP) — Robert Moore, consulting forester of Danville, Pa., opposes proposed legislation for government air in providing technical conservation services to private landowners.

The legislation was advocated by the Association of State Foresters. Moore spoke for the Association of Private Consulting Foresters in opposition. Harris Reynolds, Boston, of the Massachusetts Forests and Parks association, also was against the bill.

third name given to the Sunday school and this expression you will hear in eastern Pennsylvania and especially in Philadelphia. Truly, the Sunday school is a Bible school. One of the primary tenets of our religion is that men and women shall be taught the Bible. The Sunday school teaches to know the Bible, how to use the Bible and how to apply the teachings in it to life.

C. Glenn Weaver, Gettysburg R. 1, president of the association, was the presiding officer. Mrs. Robert Spangler opened the convention with an organ prelude. The Rev. David S. Kammerer, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Littlestown, led the group singing of "Come Thou Almighty King" and "Holy, Holy, Holy." The Rev. Harvey B. Simons, pastor of Centenary Methodist church, read the 13th chapter of First Corinthians and offered prayer.

Special music was given by a flute quartet from the Littlestown Junior-Senior high school consisting of Nancy Renner, Eileen Hartlaub, Barbara Waltman and Elizabeth Anne Crouse. They played "On Hallelujah" and "Toy Soldiers." Business was then conducted by the president, Roscoe W. Rittase. Roll call was then taken of the 14 schools in the district. For the past six months, the banner was held by Bart's EUB church, Union township. It was awarded to St. Luke's, White Hall, the host school.

Elect Officers

A slate of candidates was prepared by a committee consisting of Chester S. Byers, the Rev. A. W. Garvin and Edward F. Hawk and was read by the secretary, Miss Helen Myers.

C. Glenn Weaver, Gettysburg R. 1, was re-elected president. He is now starting his third term in office. Other officers elected were: vice president, Fred King, Littlestown R. 1; secretary, Miss Helen Myers.

STOMACH GAS
Can Rob You of Sleep

Many people have attacks of stomach gas so bad they can't lie down to sleep. Sometimes they have to prop themselves up in bed with pillows so they can breathe!

But now CERTA-VIN is helping such victims of stomach gas by the HUNDREDS, right here in Gettysburg.

CERTA-VIN is a new formula. It is taken before meals; thus it works with your food so that you can digest your meals without gas; then you get the fullest food out of everything you eat. CERTA-VIN contains 10 Great Herbs, plus vitamin B and Iron. Besides relieving gas, it makes the nerves stronger with vitamin B and energizes the blood with iron. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering. Get CERTA-VIN—PEOPLES' Drug Store, 25 Baltimore Street.

Littlestown R. 1; treasurer, Roscoe W. Rittase, Littlestown.

Department heads elected were: Children's division, Mrs. David Markle, Hanover; Evangelism and Missions, the Rev. A. W. Garvin, Littlestown; Adult Education, Edward F. Hawk, Littlestown; Young People's work, H. Dean Stover, Littlestown; Christian Education, Elmer C. Schildt, Taneytown R. D.; temperance, the Rev. Harvey B. Simons, Littlestown; and School Administration, Samuel H. Higginbotham, Littlestown.

Mr. Sassaman's address followed the group singing of "My Faith Looks up to Thee." The flute quartet then presented "Plantation Favorites" and "Integer Vitae." The offering was received by the Rev. Frank E. Reynolds, pastor of Redeemer's Reformed church.

After the singing of "Love Divine," the newly-elected officers were installed by R. R. Starnes, Bendersville, president of the Adams County Sabbath school association, after which the benediction was pronounced by the Rev. Dr. J. M. Myers, supply pastor of St. Luke's Lutheran church.

The program was arranged by H. Dean Stover, Fred King and Elmer Schildt.

The Appalachian trail hike of Littlestown Boy Scout troop No. 84 was interrupted on Sunday morning by rain. Forty-two members of the troop and four leaders left Littlestown at 7 o'clock Saturday morning by bus for Pine Grove Furnace, intending to travel on the trail between this point and Caledonia. They arrived safely at Pine Grove Furnace and were able to start their hike about 8:30 o'clock Saturday morning. They carried lunch in their knapsacks which they ate Saturday noon at the Tumbling Run game preserve cabin. After dinner they hiked to the Big Flat Fire tower, which most of the scouts climbed to view the surrounding country. Less than two miles of hiking remained until they reached Birch Run leanto where they camped for the night. Their equipment had been taken to this point by Paul Hiltzbrich and Cletus Reinaman. They erected their pup and mountain tents, prepared their supper and after supper gathered around a council fire where they enjoyed group singing, made speeches and performed stunts.

Rain Breaks Camp

Some of the boys preferred sleeping out in the open, but they were disturbed Sunday about 5 a. m. by the rain. Seeking the shelter of tents and a truck for awhile, they decided after a hasty breakfast to break camp and send for their transportation to return home. They started hiking over the Shippensburg-Arden road, to the Pine Grove Furnace road and then to Caledonia where they were met by their bus. It is their custom to conduct Sunday school on these hikes. This was done on the bus while they were returning home. They arrived home about 1 p. m. Sunday.

Of the 42 scouts taking the hike, the leaders reported that "14 of the scouts were taking the Appalachian Trail hike for the first time." The scouts on the hike were James Bowers, Kenneth Olinzer, Dean Sell, Thomas Bucher, Richard Crouse, Charles Hall, Arthur Barnes, Richard Wolfe, Gary Keefer, Leonard L. Pitter, Jr., Dean Sely, Larry Sertz, Ronald Bowers, Kenneth S. James, John Harner, Robert Crouse, Lee Kruit, Larry Worley, Robert Yinsling, Gary Waltman, Dale Dutterer, Terry Burr, Barron Cornell, Larry Snyder, Arthur Shantzbrook, Terry Brown, Kenneth Shanefelter, Richard Horner, Robert Snyder, James Hahn, Ronald Strevie, Fred Miller, William Benner, Leroy Basehoar, Gene Miller, James Hollinger, Larry Jones, James Sellman, Jack Stites, Robert Thomas, Paul Barnes and Dean Bankert.

Adult leaders on the hike were Luther D. Snyder, troop committee-man; Edgar Wolfe, Edward Gelman and Glenn Dutterer, assistant scoutmasters. W. E. Stites accompanied the adult leaders.

Chapter 6

Katherine crossed the road suddenly with a swift little run, as though she were caught by a hook and line which switched her helplessly across the road to Brody's side. The boy's beautiful, passionate eyes watched her as a fisherman watches the silver, underwater movements of a trout. It was a look that in spite of its predatory stillness almost as helpless as her own.

The balls shot back and the door swung inward, and Andrew nearly fell through into the cool shadow of the porch. He went in and up to the bar, and Morton followed him, blinking after the brilliance of the sunshine outside. He sat by the open open fireplace, thoughtful and silent, and the others dropped down at his feet, rolling pleading eyes up at his master. They sat in silence, Morton's eyes fixed on the geranium-colored brick floor. Andrew watching him, waiting for him to speak. He knew Morton affected a complete detachment from the personal affairs of his cast, a detachment which was completely artificial.

"Of course, I could tell her she's no good as an actress and send her away," barked Morton suddenly, furiously scratching the short black fur of the terrier. "That would save her. I don't think he would bother following her; women will always be a dime a dozen for Master William. But it would not be honest to tell her that, Andy, because she can feel words right through her skinny little body. She'll be slow to develop, but in the end she may be the miracle I'm always hoping for—the miracle of technique and art together in one person. I could send her away and break her heart, and destroy a potential artist. She'll get her heart broken just as surely if she stays."

Morton glanced at him guiltily. "I've not got the wisdom of Solomon. I'm the girl's producer, not her father. If I were her father I would send her packing. I'm her producer, and I know she's the makings of an actress. I've said I'll produce 'Prunella,' and if I do, he'll play Pierrot, of course."

"And she will play Prunella," said Andrew. "Her first big part, and you will throw her right into his arms. Well, why not? They might make a go of it. They might be happy."

Morton thumped on the floor with his stick. "Who cares about their problems? Why should I trouble about them? I give them fair warning!"

"I'm going to produce 'Prunella' and I'm putting up the cast tonight!" "That's that, then," shrugged Andrew. "Why the flapdoodle? You'd made your mind up before you started to tell me."

"Andy, you'll be here this weekend? And you'll be bringing these Yanks down in a week or so?"

"My personal admiration for you," Andrew said with dignity, "and my respect for your age, forbid me to call you names. But do go on."

Morton went on. "Well, you talk to this kid. Try and divert her attention a little. Perhaps a little attention from another man? I don't know... you're younger than I am. Warn her not to burn her fingers, if you can. She's only eighteen."

"Eighteen," repeated Andrew thoughtfully. Eighteen, and as vulnerable as a nestling thrush before it learns to fly. The old man's idea was silly, illogical, and quixotic. "I tell you what I can do," he said lightly, "I'll tell myself that he had no intention of involving himself or doing anything. 'Now look, Morton, you've got to listen about the Hamlyn's. They'll stay at the White Stag. I've booked them two rooms and a private sitting room, and I've arranged with one of the local boys to take her riding.'"

"It's not the hunting season."

"Any season is hunting season for Magda. Don't interrupt. I want seats for myself, the Hamlyn's, and the Blounts for the first night of 'Prunella,' and I'm telling you now that Sydney and I are interested in your pretty Mr. Brody. He did not add, 'And so is Miss Hamlyn.' Somehow Magda seemed to be a long way from Broadway and the quiet old inn.

"For what?"

"For films, sucker, what do you think?" said Andrew. "I keep trying to get it into your dull head that Hamlyn represents World-Wide."

"Fiends of the underworld!" exploded Morton. "But you can't take him away until the end of my season—at least not unless you pass through the nose for him."

"They'll do that," said Andrew. "If they want him."

"They'll want him," said Morton heavily, and to the inquiring quirk of Andrew's brows, he answered, "It will finish him as an actor, of course—what I call an actor. But perhaps nature intended him for a film star. He's so..."

"What?"

"He's in love with himself. I think when every motion picture house is a pool where he can watch his own reflection, perhaps he'll be happy."

GALEN FROMME WILL ADDRESS '50 GRADUATES

Announcement has been made at Littlestown high school that Galen Fromme, news director of radio station WBAL and WBAL-TV, Baltimore, will be speaker at the 37th commencement to be held Monday, May 29. The speaker was born in Williamstown, Pa., and graduated from Pottsville high school as valedictorian of his class. While in school, he was editor of the school paper and later a reporter for the "Pottsville Republican."

Mr. Fromme was one of Major James' early talent discoveries. His radio career began in Reading in 1935—moving to WBAL in 1939 and in 1941 he was appointed news director. He has been assigned at a member of the White House Correspondents' association and attends regular Presidential Press conferences.

The speaker is also active in Baltimore music circles, including the J & O Men's Glee club and Grace Methodist church, where he is baritone soloist. For eight years he was the singing star of "Music Preferred," a popular Sunday evening music program on WBAL.

For 10 years he has been featured in the WBAL 8 a. m. news. He is also a feature reporter on "BC's 'News of the World' program. During the past two years, he has been news director for the television station WBAL-TV where he is featured on "City Desk" and other daily broadcasts.

Smith, Mrs. Z. W. Sanders, Mrs. James P. Smith, Miss Rose Anne Smith and Mrs. Guy Linn.

Miss Anna Mae Bish, Washington, spent the week-end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Bish, South Queen street. She returned to Washington on Sunday night with her aunt, Mrs. Paul Study, Washington, who also spent the week-end in Littlestown and vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth D. Sell, students at Ursinus college spent the week-end with Mr. Sell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley R. Sell, East King street extended.

Eline Rites Held

Prayers were recited on Sunday evening at the J. W. Little and Son funeral home, Littlestown, for Guy F. Eline, 56, North Queen street, Littlestown, who died Friday at 6:45 p. m. at the Warner hospital, where he had been a patient for three weeks. Funeral services were held this morning starting at the Little funeral home at 8:30 o'clock, followed by requiem high mass at 9 o'clock in St. Aloysius Catholic church, with the Rev. Fr. Francis McKinney, supply pastor, as the celebrant. Interment was in the St. Aloysius cemetery.

Serving as pallbearers were Bernard Dillman, Clarence J. Krichten, Sr., John Redding, W. K. Ebaugh, R. L. Crouse and Noah Snyder.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward P. Hawk and daughters, Dolores and Sandra, East King street, attended the May day festivities at Gettysburg State Teachers' college on Saturday. On Sunday they visited with Mrs. Hawk's mother, Mrs. Carrie Hiner, Pleasant Valley, Md.

There will be rehearsal of the adult choir of St. John's Lutheran church on Wednesday night at 8 o'clock and rehearsal of the Young People's choir Thursday night at 7 o'clock.

The annual Mother and Daughter banquet of Grace Lutheran church, Two Taverns, will be held on May 15 at the Mt. Joy Lutheran church instead of May 16 as previously announced. Mrs. Wallace Fisher, Gettysburg, will be the guest speaker.

Attend Youth Rally

Mrs. Robert Crist, Hanover, and Mrs. Harvey B. Simons, Littlestown, with William Simons, June Rime, Betty Myers and Thelma Knight, representing the Junior Fellowship of the Centenary Methodist church, attended the Harrisburg District Spring Youth Rally of the Methodist church in First Methodist church, Chambersburg, on Saturday.

The Junior Choir and the Junior Fellowship of Centenary Methodist church will begin rehearsals this week for a pageant entitled "Who Bids" which will be part of the Children's Day program on June 11. Other pupils of the Junior and Intermediate departments of the school are invited to participate in this pageant.

There will be a meeting on Wednesday at 8 o'clock at the store-room of J. Arthur Boyd, East King street, of all the officers and directors of the Littlestown Baseball club.

The Letter boys and girls of Littlestown high school will be guests of the Littlestown Rotary club at their weekly meeting Tuesday at 6:15 p. m. in Schott's banquet hall. This program will be in charge of the community service committee which consists of Frank E. Basehoar, chairman; Dr. Joseph R. Riden, Luther D. Snyder, Clarence R. Reck, Lloyd E. Crouse and Dr. Donald B. Coover.

Alpha Fire company No. 1 will meet Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the fire hall.

The Littlestown chapter of the Ocker Snyder Post No. 321, American Legion, is holding a belated birthday party of the local post at the post home, East King street on May 10. The actual anniversary date was March 31. All auxiliary and legion members and their families are invited. Those desiring to attend are requested to notify Mrs. Ernest R. Sentz or Mrs. Robert

Tractor-Trailer Crashes Into Tree

Two men were injured slightly when the brakes on a tractor-trailer truck locked Friday about 6:30 p. m. causing the vehicle to, jack-knife, jump the curb and plow into a large tree and porch in the 1400-block Broadway, Hanover.

Hanover police said the operator of the vehicle, Henry Archie Lings, Abbottstown, suffered a bruised right arm, and a passenger Kenneth Johnson, 20, of 1941 State street, Harrisburg, suffered a cut right knee. They were treated by a local physician and discharged.

Damage to the truck, owned by the Capital Bakery, Harrisburg, was estimated at $800, and to the tree, porch and cement wall at the home of Norville W. Eckard, 1403 Broadway, at $75.

Wareheim, not later than May 6.

Mrs. Granville Jacoby will be hostess to the monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid society of Redeemer's Reformed church at the church on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The Mite Society of St. Paul's Lutheran church will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. John M. Peaser, East King street.

A hat social will be conducted by the Women's Society of Christian Service of Centenary Methodist church, Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Charles Walfert, along the Littlestown-Bonneauville road.

It is expected that the 1950 "Littlestownian," annual publication of Littlestown high school will be ready for distribution about the middle of May. This year's publication will be an enlargement over previous years and will contain special features due to the fact that this is the 25th anniversary edition. It will be dedicated to H. Dean Stover, "friend and advisor of the senior class."

Announcement was made on Sunday morning by the Rev. John C. Brumbach, of the annual Mother and Daughter banquet, sponsored by the King's Daughters class for the girls and women of the church. It will be held in the church grove on Tuesday, May 9 at 6:30 p. m. Those who have not yet registered are requested to register as soon as possible with Mrs. Stanley R. Sell. Adult tickets will be $1 and tickets for children from 6 to 12 will be 65 cents.

The woods and the auditorium will be cleaned Wednesday night. Members of the Kings' Daughters class and the men of the church are asked to be at the grove Wednesday at 7 p. m. Following the cleaning.

There will be a rehearsal in the church grove auditorium for the program to be presented at the banquet.

Committees arranging for the Mother-Daughter banquet are: Program: Mrs. Erwin A. Rebert and Mrs. Earl Baker; supper: Mrs. Clair R. Markie and Mrs. Paul Berwager, and favors: Mrs. Gerald Sterner, Mrs. Raymond Wildash, Mrs. Leroy Garret and Mrs. David Markie.

The pastor also announced that due to the session of Mercersburg Synod this week at Salem Church, Waynesboro, R. D., the monthly meetings of the consistory and the Women's Guild will not be held on Wednesday night, but will be held following the church service next Sunday morning.

EASY WAY BEST TO "FIX" LAWN IN SPRINGTIME

The easiest way to improve a lawn is also the best way. You begin when the ground is soft enough to allow a pointed stick to be thrust into it six inches deep.

First, spread over the lawn area a balanced commercial plant food at the rate of four pounds to 100 square feet. During the spring thaw, when the soil alternately freezes at night, and thaws during the day, the surface is pierced by tiny holes, extending several inches deep. This condition is commonly called "honeycombed."

When plant food and grass seed are spread on a "honeycombed" surface, both find their way down into the soil. Farmers say the seed "muds in." By sowing at this stage you avoid the necessity of loosening the soil of bare spots and top dressing the seed, and also avoid any danger of the plant food burning the grass.

The early start gives your new grass plants a chance to grow up in the cool, moist weather of early spring. Having fed your lawn its first meal and sown feed with a minimum of labor, your next saving comes from not rolling your lawn. Research has established that grass does not thrive in compact soil; it needs a loose, porous condition, which a heavy roller harms. If you try to level off the lawn surface with a roller, harm may result. The only reason for rolling the lawn is to press down the sod against the sub-soil, from which it may have been separated by frost heaving. There has been plenty of such heaving this year, but use a light roller, and wait until the soil begins to dry, so that it is moist, not wet.

Don't Dig Weeds
Next, don't dig weeds. The weeds of spring are easily destroyed by spraying the lawn with 24D as soon as the grass begins to grow vigorously. Spray before the dandelions flower, if you still have dandelions. And do not mow your grass, unless it is creeping bent, closer than one and a half inches. This avoids injuring the crown of the grass plant, and permits a rich green color to be maintained, with vigorous growth. Do not remove the clippings on a lawn, except in hot weather, when they are very heavy, and if left to dry might smother or overheat the grass beneath.

Cortland, N. Y., May 1 (P)—Daylight Saving Time sent Merle Law, post office janitor, to a doctor. Law mounted a ladder yesterday to adjust the post office clock to fast time. The ladder slipped and Law fell. He was found unconscious by a fellow worker, but was back at work today with his head bandaged.

Speed Payments To Navy Veterans

Harrisburg, May 1 (P)—Navy veterans will get their state bonus faster under a new speeded-up processing method.

The state Bonus Bureau said the plan consists of checking claims of Navy veterans with four outside sources. Before the new plan was developed only five per cent of the Navy claims were paid immediately. Now the rate is up to 40 per cent, it added.

VETERANS TAKE TOWN TO SHOW RUSSIAN RULE

Mosinee, Wis., May 1 (P)—Coordinated assault teams of make-believe Communist insurgents took over this paper mill city shortly after dawn today.

Mayor Ralph E. Kronenwetter, Police Chief Caryl Gewiss and other city officials were hustled from their beds by the six-man commando teams. Other units threw up road blocks and posted proclamations.

The revolution was a mock uprising but to Wisconsin Legionnaires who planned it, the affair was a serious one to be staged realistically.

The demonstration was the first of its kind in this country of what could happen as it has in many European countries. It has been in the making for a long time by those who are taking part.

Mock Uprising
Sixty-odd men who carried out the "uprising" prepared well and long for it. They are Legionnaires from various Wisconsin posts and local residents who want to demonstrate what would happen if Communists actually took over.

Directed by two former Communists, the maneuvers are patterned after successful operations in Europe. The zero hour was set for shortly before dawn when men broke up into "commando teams" of six and descended upon homes of the mayor, chief of police, clergymen and others and took them into custody.

All "enemies of the state" were put into a concentration camp. Issue Red Paper
The Mosinee "Weekly Times" was taken over by one group and "The Red Star," a special edition, was printed and circulated immediately.

In "The Red Star," the official Soviet proclamation was printed, instructing citizens what to do and how they must act under the new regime.

Joseph Z. Kornfeder, former Communist organizer who spent three years in a Moscow training school, and Benjamin Gittlow, former general secretary of the party in New York, are directing the "coup."

750,000 CHEER ANTI-RUSSIAN BERLIN TALKS

(By The Associated Press)
Threats of trouble marked East-West May Day celebrations in divided Berlin today, but cool-headed German police from both sides prevented any outbreak of rioting.

In the Western sector of the city an estimated 750,000 Germans cheered speakers who attacked Russia and communism. Their demonstration centered around Potsdamer Platz. A few blocks away, at the Lustgarten, thousands of East Berliners took part in an organized demonstration where speakers assailed the West and marchers carried pictures of Marshal Stalin during a six-hour parade.

CHIANG SEEKS MORE HELP TO BATTLE RUSSIA

Taipei, Formosa, May 1 (AP) — Chiang Kai-Shek today urged workers in Red China to aid the Nationalists' war "against the Communists and Soviet Russia."

The National Generalissimo's May Day message was loaded with assertions that his government is fighting the Russians as well as the Chinese Reds.

Nationalist planes in a pre-dawn raid showered Shanghai with a half-million leaflets accusing Russia of trying to convert China into a slave state, air headquarters said.

Appealing to the workers on the Communist-occupied mainland, Chiang said:

Sabotage And Strikes
"You have fully recognized the significance of the struggle against the Communists and Soviet Russia. Your hatred for and protest against the Communists, your sabotage and strikes, are of equal importance as the contribution made by workers in the rear."

"Our anti-Communist and anti-Russian strength lies in the workers. Only through thrift and hard work in the rear and through consolidated efforts at the front can Taiwan (Formosa) be held and victory over Communism and Russia be won."

He described this island bastion as "our base in the anti-Communist and anti-Russian war for national salvation." He added:

"Our anti-Communist war is a war against aggression. While 450,000,000 Chinese now pin their hopes on Taiwan, the brute force of the Russian aggressor and the Communists is also pointed to this island."

LABOR REGIME TENSION GRIPS WORLD POWERS

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)
The British Socialist government's fight for life, with a bare majority of eight votes over its combined opposition in the House of Commons, is about as much of a nerve strain for allied onlookers as for the participants.

It's like watching an acrobat risk his neck on the flying trapeze. Britain is the key European nation in the Western world's program of defense against Communist aggression. Thus the strength and stability of her government are matters of moment for her allies.

One hastens to add that there is no reason to suppose the three parties (Socialist, Conservative and Liberal) wouldn't stand shoulder to shoulder in a national emergency. England has demonstrated that characteristic too often to leave room for doubt. However, a government which is dealing with great international issues, as well as a grave domestic economic crisis, needs freedom from political harassment.

Two Narrow Escapes
Twice last week the government squeezed through to victory on two issues with margins of only five votes in each case. Both these issues seemed pretty small to endanger the life of a government—one calling for the doubling of the gasoline tax and the other imposing a 33 1/3 percent purchase tax on trucks.

Of course former Prime Minister Winston Churchill, leader of the great Conservative opposition, must be expected to bait the Socialist government up to a point. Commons is a fine political scolding-board. Moreover the old maestro takes a pishish delight in a good scrap, and there are few if any who can stand up to him in open debate.

Still, there are close observers who doubt that Churchill really would like to see the government brought down now. That would mean another general election which, as things stand, would just about duplicate the one that was held only a couple of months ago and resulted in the present near stalemate. By the same token the Socialists don't want an election right now.

Future In Doubt
Then all parties have to consider that another general election at this juncture would have an unsettling effect on the harassed country. The fact remains, though, that the life of the present government can hardly be long. Some observers think it might last until October when it is due to name the board which will supervise the nationalization of the great steel industry. This is a highly controversial issue and the Socialist regime might fall over it.

Elks Bowlers Name Sunkel President

Cleveland, May 1 (AP) — The 31st annual Elks National Bowling tournament will be held in St. Louis next spring.

The association also elected Fred Sunkel of St. Louis, now first vice president, to become president July 1, replacing William C. Zimmerman of Milwaukee.

In the 30th annual tournament, which winds up next week-end, there was only one major change in standings as a result of competition Saturday and yesterday. Connie Schwoegler of Madison, Wis., hit an even 100 to displace H. Balanti of Braddock, Pa., whose 1787 total was tops for two weeks.

In team standings, Schwoegler Grip of Madison rolled a 3086 for fifth place, but the four leaders were unchanged — Gold Bond Beer, Cleveland 3146; BPOE 510, New Philadelphia, O. 3131; Esquires, Sandusky, O. 3090, and Shenken's Furniture, McKees Rocks, Pa., 3090.

Williamsport Wins High School Relay

Philadelphia, May 1 (AP) — Williamsport high school's mile relay team defeated eight other Pennsylvania schoolboy quartets Saturday in the Penn relays.

Williamsport, anchored by James Finn, covered the distance in 3.33, five yards ahead of Harrisburg's William Penn.

John Harris of Harrisburg was third, Allentown fourth. Then came York, Reading, Lancaster, Bethlehem and Lebanon.

Besides Finn, the Williamsport runners were Dick Richards, Jim Johnston and L. Smith.

A Chinese, Lee Yim, introduced commercial shrimp fishing in the Gulf of Mexico during the Civil War.

House Tax Writers Seek New Revenues

Washington, May 1 (AP) — House tax writers started a search today for almost a billion dollars in new taxes to balance cuts they have voted in present excise levies. They weren't too optimistic.

Unless members of the House Ways and Means committee can strike such a balance, they are courting a presidential veto of the proposed $967,000,000 excise cut they came up with Friday after days of chomping.

President Truman has said he'll send back to Congress any bill which cuts excises without making up the revenue loss to the government.

In Friday's action, the committee voted cuts in the imposts on night clubs, travel tickets, telephone and telegraph service and baby bottle warmers. It previously had approved reductions for movie tickets, furs, jewelry, pocketbooks, luggage and many other items.

When two or more metals are mixed together the resulting product is called an alloy.

RED STRENGTH DOUBLES YANKS'

Washington, May 1 (AP)—The nation's top naval officer warns that Russia's naval manpower is nearly twice that of the U. S. and its ship strength growing.

Admiral Forrest P. Sherman, chief of naval intelligence, declared last night on the "Meet the Press" television program (NBC) that Russia is not "completely ready" for a large-scale war.

But he pointed out, "they have nearly twice as many officers and men in their navy as we have in ours. They have more cruisers in actual commission than we do."

(Large segments of U. S. naval strength are in "mothball" storage.)

"They have an amphibious force x x x suitable for the waters of the Black Sea, the Mediterranean, the Baltic. They have a force there that's larger than the corresponding elements of all the other navies of the world combined."

"They have a number of large cruisers under construction today. We have none. They have a large number of destroyers and destroyer types."

He said the Russians have no aircraft carrier "that we know of."

The admiral indicated he did not believe reports that foreign submarines have been operating off American shores.
